Have you ever traveled to India? If your answer is 'no', you shouldn't miss this tip. When you travel on sleeper class trains (the cheapest trains) for long distances, it is easier if you are two people, so that one of you can keep an eye on luggage while the other has to use the toilet. During the night, especially people without tickets just walk through the carts and take empty seats. You should drink from sealed water bottles only and use this water to brush your teeth and wash fruit. I met more than one person that got sick from the water.
